CLIMAX IN THE MURDER OF PRIEST PROMISED.

POLICE EXPECT ARRESTS TO-NIGHT

ALBANY STRIKE IS ENDED; TROOPS QUITTING FOR HOME.

Both Sides Claim Victory Over Agreement Which Was Signed by Strikers and Company To-Day—Regiments to Leave Albany at Once.

(Special to The Evening World.)
ALBANY, May 18.—The settlement of the great railway strike affecting five cities was accomplished to-day after a conference which lasted until midnight, and after ratification by the full body of strikers at meetings of their individual organizations, which did not terminate in some instances until 10 o'clock to-day, when the officers of the Street Railway Employees' Association and the Traction Company formally signed the agreement.

Both sides to the controversy made concessions and when the papers were signed both claimed a victory. The Troy branches of the employees' union were the first to ratify the agreement at 4 A. M., and the Albany men signed it at 10:20. The officers of the Employees' Association signed it a moment later and the traction company officers appended their signature at twenty minutes of eleven.

Three thousand members of the National Guard in soggy clothes from a drenching rain began preparations to go home. The strike has been of twelve days' duration, and the cost of it in all ways is estimated as follows:

LOSSES BY THE STRIKE.

Loss of life, two prominent citizens.
Loss financially to the company, $17,423.03.
Loss to the strikers, $17,820.
Loss to the county, maintenance and pay of 2,400 troops for four days, $33,700.
Total losses caused by the strike, $68,943.03.

All through the quiet night the conferences looking toward a settlement continued, while the National Guard tried to get some comfort out of soggy ground and dripping tents. The heavy rain had a depressing influence on everybody. The soldiers on guard about the streets stood in doorways and under awnings. The good nature of the average American asserted itself and the men were in many instances given coffee and sandwiches.

The camps were dreary pictures of misery. Mud was knee high and the rain ran in rivulets not only about the tents but into them and down on the soldiers, who partially protected themselves with their ponchos.
The Ninth Regiment of New York will leave here at 7:10 P. M., following the Empire State Express and arriving in New York about 11 P. M.
The Twenty-third leaves to-morrow.

SMALL-POX ON PRETORIA.

The Hamburg-American line steamer Pretoria, which arrived to-day from Hamburg via Boulogne and Plymouth with 125 cabin and 234 steerage passengers, was detained at Quarantine, owing to one of her steerage passengers having small-pox.
The patient, Vincent Kurpules, a Russian, twenty-one years old, was taken sick on May 10, and was promptly isolated by the steamer's surgeon, Franz.
The steamer will be held for disinfection.

PHILADELPHIA BALL PARK, May 18.

The Quakers were finished with the Pirates and were not grazing in the same pastures with the Coogan goats. The Chicago Remnants came for four days' battle instead.
This was Chicago's first appearance here this season and they were warmly welcomed.
Thomas, who had one of his hands bitten in a fight with a vicious clam at Morristown last night, was out of the game and Barry took his place at center.
Duggeby was elected to do the slab stunts and McFarland went behind the bat. Menefee was put in the box for Chicago and Kling donned the mask and mitt.

The attendance was 2,300.

SHOWERS DUE FOR TO-MORROW.

No Hope of Bright and Sunny Day Is Indicated.

Unless the weather-wise people are greatly mistaken, New York won't have a sunny, warm Sunday to-morrow. Instead, the Weather Bureau predicts showers and unsettled conditions over the eastern part of the country generally.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 8 P. M.
Sunday for New York City and vicinity: Rain to-night; Sunday unsettled, probably showers; fresh easterly winds, shifting to northerly Sunday morning.

DOCTOR'S DEFENSE.

From an authoritative source The Evening World gives Stanley's story of the mysterious death of Rev. E. S. Phillips, of Hazleton, Pa.: "Stanley is frightened almost to death. He realizes that he is suspected of murdering Father Phillips and his terror increases as he appreciates his position."

"The facts are that Stanley has been on a prolonged debauch. Father Phillips died in his house of natural causes on May 9. When Stanley found that he was dead he was terrified. For days he kept himself steeped in liquor and drugs until he really forgot that the priest's corpse was in his rooms. "Dr. Stanley is a wreck, physically and mentally, and it may be days before he can give a lucid account of what actually happened in his apartments."

DR. KIRK STANLEY

DETAINED FROM JURY IN CORONER'S
OFFICE AT 12:30

Police Know Names of Women and Are Hot on Their Trail—Expect to Have Them in the Toils To-Night.

The two women suspects in the mysterious death of the Hazleton priest, Rev. Edward S. Phillips, will probably soon be under lock and key. Arrests are expected to be made to-night and the police believe that with the women in the toils they will hold the key to the mystery.

Detectives have been searching for the women all day. They know their names and are confident that they will soon be able to locate them. When the women tell their story it is believed that all the facts will be made known and that the true story of the tragedy will be told.

can the case be made clear.

In the Coroner's court to-day Coroner Bausch held "Dr." Kirk Stanley in $10,000 bail for examination Wednesday.

He was held as a "suspicious person" in the mysterious death of Rev. Edward S. Phillips, whose decomposed body was found in Stanley's apartments, 730 Ninth avenue, yesterday.

Coroner Bausch said: "While the autopsy developed nothing other than natural causes the circumstances are so suspicious I am compelled to hold Stanley until the chemical analysis is completed. I will accept $10,000 bail."

Stanley was unable to give it and was remanded to the Tombs.

Attorneys Levy and Unger, his attorneys, made this statement to-day after a long conference with him in the Tombs:

"There was no impropriety in the conduct of the unfortunate priest."

"The temporary immoderate use of stimulants on his part was the sum total of any weakness that may be charged against him."

"If any women were in that flat through them only, they believe, they came and departed long before the arrival of Father Phillips. He saw no women while there."

"Our client didn't commit murder."

The body of Father Phillips up to now was still lying in the undertaking room at No. 48 West Fifty-first street, where it was taken yesterday. The body of the dead priest was contained in a steel casket, covered with black cloth and having silver mountings. It bears a plate on which is simply inscribed the name, "Rev. Father Edward Stanislaus Phillips."

The name of the woman suspect in the mysterious death of the Rev. Father Edward S. Phillips, for whom the police are searching, has been ascertained by the police.

She is well-known in the neighborhood of Ninth avenue and Fifth street, and is said to be a woman who posed as "Dr." Kirk Stanley's wife.

The police expect to have the woman in custody soon, and hope to secure from her the key to the mysterious tragedy in which the priest met his death.

The other woman believed to know something about the strange case has thus far eluded capture. The "woman who looked like" as she is described, moved recently from her quarters in West Sixty-fourth street. A new phase of her account is her use of the name of an innocent, respected woman, who lived in the building from which the auburn-haired woman was elected.

Practically the entire detective force is searching for these two women.
